Sacramento County Registrar of Voters NEWS RELEASE

Get Election Information Sent Directly to Your Computer or Phone

Email and text messages keep subscribers up-to-date on election information

Sacramento County Registrar of Voters Jill LaVine is pleased to offer a free subscription service that will keep you updated by email or text message throughout the election season, including the latest results on Election Night, November 2.

"It just takes a few minutes, and the information we gather is only used to provide you with the updates you request," LaVine states. "This service lets you stay on top of the election news with fast, accurate information about where you can vote, real-time results once the polls close and many other topics."

Visitors to the Elections website can select the icon found on pages available for subscription.

This service also has messaging specifically for wireless devices (text message-enabled phones, pagers, PDA devices, etc.). Once you've signed-up, go to the Subscriber Preferences page to select delivery options. Subscribers can change their subscription details or cancel the service at any time.

To sign up, visit www.elections.sacounty.net.

The Elections Office will constantly add to the list of information and services available for email and text message updates.

You can also access information updates on a wide variety of county services such as emergency preparedness, public meetings, regional parks, and more.
