Presidential General Election Update

Online Voter Registration is Now Available

Sacramento County Registrar of Voters announced today that the Secretary of State's California Online Voter Registration (COVR) is now available to accept online Voter Registration applications.

Sacramento Registrar of Voters Jill LaVine is encouraged by this latest application. "It's exciting to finally be able to accept online voter registration applications" says LaVine.

LaVine expects that this online registration will save her department valuable employee time in processing the huge amount of applications that are received at the last minute prior to elections. By law, the last day to register to vote is 15 days prior to any election.
